Drainage Outlet Bid Is Within Estimate

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

M. H. Wolfe & Co. of Granite City was the low bidder, Thursday for installation of a low-level outlet at the south end of Horseshoe Lake—a project that will initiate the state plan to provide drainage for the Doherty Slough area of Nameoki Township.

The Granite City firm bid $145,021 in the lowest of three alternate methods of installing the outlet which is to facilitate drainage of the lake into Cahokia Creek drainage canal when drainage from the Doherty Slough area and the Long Lake area of Pontoon Beach is brought into the lake.

Cahokia Creek empties into the Mississippi River. The company's other two bids were for $179,463 and $171,049. The state estimate for the work was $150,000.

Previous bids were opened by the Division of Water Resource Management of the Illinois Department of Transportation early this month, but all of those bids were above the state estimate by 50%.

The $145,021 bid calls for installing a "multi-plate arch" culvert which is an all-metal drain.

The highest bid was for a completely concrete structure and the second highest provided for steel sheet pile walls and a concrete floor.

Pontoon Beach Census Shows Gain to 3,235

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

A special census of Pontoon Beach conducted by the village shows that 3,235 persons reside there, it was announced at Thursday night's village board meeting.

The new figure is expected to increase the village allotment of motor fuel tax funds and federal revenue sharing benefits.

he and four women residents completed the work in one week, but the work took many hours.

Cole said that the $100 provided for taking the census allowed each woman only $25. He asked that the amount be doubled to $50 per woman because of the hours each worked. The board approved the request.

Cole also said that in addition to increasing federal funds to the village, the new census will aid the village in checking the utility tax rolls to see that all residents are included.

The newly gathered information also will help in preparation of a poll book to determine who is eligible to vote in the April village election.

PROPOSES NEW OFFICE
Dan Walker, Democratic governor nominee, said today that if elected he would open a governor's office in Southern Illinois with a direct link to the office in Springfield.

Halloween Parade Tuesday; Police Urge Safety Measures by Parents

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Monsters, witches and hobgoblins, together with an assortment of other seasonal masqueraders, are expected to take part in the traditional "Halloween Parade" set at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday through the downtown Granite City business district.

The annual event which usually attracts several hundred youthful and adult marchers will be sponsored again by Granite City Moose Lodge 272.

Paraders will be eligible for cash awards in three categories—"Best Dressed"; "Most Original"; and "Most Comical."

Prizes of $10, $5 and $4 will be presented to the top three winners in each division, with an additional 40 consolation prizes also to be awarded.

The Rolling Nobles of the Lion Shrine Club, led by Leonard Lybarger, president, will escort the marchers from the City Hall on Niedringhaus Avenue to State Street, south on State to 19th Street, west on 19th to Niedringhaus and Cleveland Boulevards, then east back to the City Hall, where the masqueraders will pass in review for the judges.

Paraders Tagged
Edward Chastain, parade marshal, said that marchers should report in costume at the City Hall between 7 and 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Each person in the parade will be tagged with a number by members of Women of the Moose Chapter 247 to enable the judging panel to identify the contestants, he said.

Judges will be Buddy V. Davis of the United Steelworkers of America, Captain Ronald Kerley of the Salvation Army, and Fred Bolliger of the Aired Temple Provost guard.

In event of inclement weather, the parade marshal said, permission has been granted by First Granite City National Bank to hold the costume judging beneath the canopied area on the State Street side of the bank's parking lot. The covered area will be used only if rain prohibits the parade from being staged, Chastain advised.

Special Patrols
All three police chiefs suggested that parents keep their children in their own neighborhoods and restrict their calls to homes of people they know, thus avoiding the possibility of harmful incidents.

Chief Dutko pointed out the 9 p.m. curfew during the Halloween parade primarily is for the protection of children, but also is aimed at discouraging excessive acts of vandalism in the late hours.

Special police, including auxiliaries, have been alerted for duty in Madison and Venice areas as a preventive and protective measure, the police chiefs stated.

In Granite City, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell, the ALERT Club, a group of Civil Defense CB radio operators, will assist the regular police departments in a special patrolling program.

Escort Small Children
Those marching in the Granite City parade will experience no difficulty as traffic is halted and a careful eye is kept on the younger children, Chastain said.

Children walking to and from the downtown parade, however, should be escorted or given specific instructions on traffic safety and other precautionary conduct rules, Chief Veizer reminded parents.

Madison Police Chief Frank Dutko and Chief Dewey Bralley of Venice today urged parents to have youthful trick or treaters off the streets and home at 9 p.m. and to limit their Halloween activities to this evening and Tuesday night.

Grade Schools Getting Environmental Materials

Educational material on the environment is being sent to 5,000 Illinois elementary schools, according to Angela Imberman, director of information services for the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality.

The project is jointly sponsored by the institute and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The institute is the research and planning arm of the Illinois environmental quality program.

The packet includes visual aids, teaching ideas, suggestions for classroom project and identification of new resources.

"Each elementary school in Illinois will receive material from which an education program can be started," she said.

"The materials were chosen by a task force of the institute, which included elementary school teachers, citizens interested in environmental problems and experienced environmental educators."

"Teaching environmental education is difficult," she added, "and the need for it is great. We hope that this project will make it easier for teachers to work in this complex field."

In addition to information material, each packet contains a form for teachers to complete and return to the institute. Teacher responses will be used as a "feedback" device so that additional materials and environmental education programs can be developed as needed.

News Notes

A business suit against State Rep. Horace Calvo (D-Granite City) and two other defendants was dismissed Thursday in St. Clair County Circuit Court.

The suit named Calvo, Rep. James Krause (D-East St. Louis) and Robert H. Williams, individually, and doing business as Mobile Home City, Inc., alleging unlawful practices and misrepresentation to three customers.

A motion to dismiss was allowed on the grounds that the suit failed to state facts constituting a cause of action, failed to specify which of the plaintiffs were involved and failed to describe the alleged injuries. Calvo termed the suit "a political stunt."

Lifting of economic controls after the April freeze expiration date is likely, C. Jackson Grayson Jr., chairman of the Price Commission, said this week in a national magazine. He said once the President declares that stability has been reached, the controls will be lifted.

A better economic year may be expected in 1973 as inflation slows and unemployment decreases, the Commerce Department indicated in its mid-year report on the nation's economy issued yesterday. The jobs rate will be reduced to about 5% and inflation will be stabilized at 2% to 3% by the report predicts. It speculated that interest rates will be generally stable in 1973.

Attorney General William J. Scott announced today that two Madison County hospitals will receive a total of $10,836 in settlement of a price-fixing scheme in which the hospitals were overcharged for purchases.

The hospitals and amounts are: Madison County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Troy Road, Edwardsville, $647; and Wood River Township Hospital, Alton-Edwardsville Road, Wood River, $19,269.

Tetracycline is a broad-spectrum drug that fights many kinds of infection. Scott's suit charged that as a result of price collusion, many state institutions, public hospitals and individual consumers were forced to pay artificially high prices for the drug from 1953 to 1963.

As a result of the suit, Illinois will recover more than $4.5 million from five major manufacturers and distributors of the drug.

State Rep. Horace L. Calvo, Democrat, Granite City, on Friday charged W. Robert Blair, speaker of the Illinois House, with "gross distortion" of the Democratic platform for Illinois.

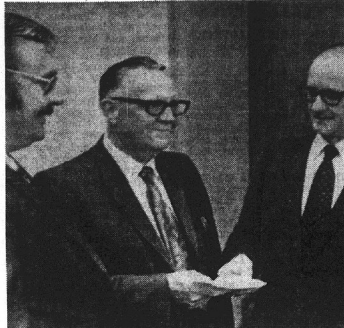

"He dares to suggest that the party is asking for tax increases through the goals which we set in our platform. I want all people of Illinois to examine the record of the two parties in the General Assembly and judge which party has been the most careful with the people's money," Calvo said.

The contention of the Illinois Pollution Control Board that the technology to remove sulphur dioxide emissions from coal smoke is here "is completely false," E. A. Shultz, senior vice president of Illinois Power Co., said Friday.

The statement by the board was made in commenting on the refusal of the Pollution Control Board to allow Illinois Power a year's extra time in attempting to solve sulphur problems at its No. 5 unit at the Wood River power station.

The company to date has spent or is spending $12,000,000 in cleaning up emissions at that site, Shultz said. Included is the installation of a test unit of a system devised by Monsanto Enviro-Chem to see whether sulphur can be taken from the smoke of a 100-megawatt unit at the plant.

Grading of East Madison Alleys Goal of Township

Steps toward dedicating alleys in the East Madison area were taken by the Nameoki Township Board Thursday night. The board asked its attorney to prepare the necessary legal papers for residents of the township, also requested a legal opinion on whether surveying of the area will be necessary before the alleys can be dedicated.

Albert Bell, street commissioner, had begun work on grading and cleaning the alleys when the question arose over whether they had been dedicated and whether the township had the right to work on undedicated alleys. It was determined that the township must dedicate them before work could legally continue.

Steel Imports Hit 14-Month High in August

Washington — Due primarily to a big jump in shipments from Japan and Western Europe, August steel imports by the United States surged to the highest monthly level in 14 months, according to American Iron and Steel Institute.

The AISI report, based on import data, noted that 1,797,000 tons of foreign steel, including 10,000 tons of fabricated structural steel and steel blanks, arrived in this country during the month.

That was the largest one-month steel import total since 2,130,000 tons of comparable imports entered the U. S. during June 1971. At that time, domestic consumers were stockpiling steel against the possibility of an industry-wide strike.

The big gain in August steel imports enabled producers to enlarge their already substantial share of the U. S. domestic steel market.

Foreign steel accounted for 19.2% of August's domestic steel receipts. This compares with a comparable figure of 18.7% for July and 17.1% for June.

The biggest contributor to August's sharp jump in steel imports was Japan. During the month, 663,000 tons of steel mill products arrived from that country—a gain of 33.1% over July's 498,000 tons of imports from Japan.

Imports of steel mill products from the European Economic Community and the United Kingdom (which joins the EEC next year) rose by 8% in August, to 799,000 tons. During July, these countries landed 735,000 tons in the U. S.

Contributing to the rise in EEC-U.K. shipments were sizeable increases in their shipments of stainless and alloy tool steels, as well as structural steel, pipe and tubing, tin plate and cold rolled sheets.

Sweden, a major source of stainless and tool steels, which is not a member of the European Common Market, boosted its shipments into the United States by 13.8% in August, while imports from Brazil during the month were more than double their July total.

Shipments from countries other than Japan, the United Kingdom and the EEC continue to account for a growing share of total U. S. imports of steel.

In the first eight months of 1972, total steel imports had reached 10,854,000 tons, including 86,000 tons of fabricated structural steel and steel blanks. Of this, 2,269,000 tons—or more than one-fifth—was supplied by these other countries.

Imports of steel mill products from the European Economic Community and the United Kingdom (which joins the EEC next year) rose by 8% in August, to 799,000 tons. During July, these countries landed 735,000 tons in the U. S.

Through the end of August, stainless imports from Sweden were running 57.8% ahead of their 1971 pace, while those from the EEC and United Kingdom were up 20.6% on a year-to-year basis. However, imports of stainless from Japan were 45.1% below their January-August 1971 level.

Through the first eight months steel imports were 102,000 tons, compared with 133,000 tons for the same period of 1971.

U. S. imports of tool steel, however, were up 16% on a year-to-year basis through the first eight months of 1972—due mainly to a 39.8% gain in such shipments from Japan, an increase of 23.5% in tool steel imports from Sweden, and a rise of 9.4% in such shipments from the EEC-U.K.

Japan, for example, shipped more high-speed tool steel into the United States during the first eight months of this year than it did during all of 1971. It also recorded a 24.7% year-to-year increase in its alloy tool steel exports to this country.

Through the first eight months of this year, tin plate imports had boosted their U.S.-bound high speed tool steel exports by 12.5%, and their shipments to this country of alloy tool steel by 32.3% on a year-to-year basis. During the same period, the U. S. received more than four times as much high speed tool steel from Austria as it did during the comparable eight months in 1971.

GLEN CARBON MISHAP

James Stack, 33, of Edwardsville, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:40 p.m. Thursday with injuries sustained in a traffic accident near Glen Carbon Road. He suffered a laceration to the scalp requiring 10 sutures. X-rays were taken of the skull, spine, chest and knees.

Although the U. S. and the EEC sent the U. S. less high speed tool steel in the first eight months of 1972 than they did in the comparable period of 1971, their combined exports of alloy tool steel to the U. S. were up 38.4% on a year-to-year basis.

In the January-August period of this year, tin plate imports had increased by 40.4% over the comparable eight months of last year—mainly because of a 62.0% jump in such shipments from the EEC and U.K., and a 27.3% rise in tin plate receipts from Japan.

Trojans 'Run Scared,' Outrun Vikings 20-6

By ROY JACKSON
MHS Football Writer
According to Madison High School Assistant Football Coach Gordon Schober, the Trojans found their secret weapon Friday night, and used it well in defeating the Francis Howell Vikings at Wentzville, Mo., 20-6. What was the weapon? "Toughness."

An effective running game totaling more than 300 yards also proved decisive. The fighting Trojans started the scoring early in the first quarter as running back Charlie Johnson passed the ball to Fullback John Newsome, who ran five yards for a touchdown. The points-after-TD run by Johnson was good and the Trojans led 6-0. To show the Trojans were determined, Johnson scored a five-yard touchdown himself later in the quarter. The extra point attempt, a run, failed and it was 14-0 as the first period ended. During the second quarter, the Vikings discovered just how determined the Trojans were as Quarterback Darryl Jones sped 35 yards down the field to give Madison another six points. The extra point try again failed on a run and the score remained 20-0.

In the third quarter, Viking Fullback Chris Roberts passed the ball to Doug Levan, who got it through the Madison defense and scored on a 25-yard touchdown play.

A pass for the extra points was missed and the score stood at 20-6. Neither team scored during the fourth quarter, although the Vikings made several futile attempts. All were in vain, as the Trojan defense was too much for Francis Howell. Madison had the ball and Trojan Carl Turner was on the verge of scoring another touchdown for MHS when the horn sounded. Coach Al Vander Haar said during the game as the Trojans were leading 20-6, "Like I've always said, when you play right, sooner or later things start to happen the way you want them to."

After the game, Coach Schober had these comments: "Toughness is the answer. Everybody got it together and played like they know how to do. I think everybody did a heck of a job."

Cage Rule Meet Set For Nov. 6

A basketball rules interpretation meeting will be held Nov. 6 at Collinsville High School. It was announced by the Illinois High School Association which is sponsoring similar meetings throughout the state. Named manager of the meeting is Virgil Fletcher, athletic director of the host school, and the interpreter will be Keith Parker of Granite City, one of four named for the state.

The meetings are organized to acquaint high school coaches and officials with the current basketball code and with the rule changes for the coming season. Some of the major changes in the rules are:

After a common foul, free throw is eliminated and the ball awarded out of bounds until bonus rule applies. The three seconds lane coverage applies only when ball is in the front court. A player who fouls must raise one hand only and lower it in a sportsman-like manner.

Coolidge Gains 27-0 Grid Win

In the 3rd quarter, Bunjan, on a 49-yard right-end sweep, scored and then kicked his own extra point.

GCBS 4-1 in League After 27-23 Gridiron Win Here Over Flyers

By SCOTT HARRISON
GCBS Football Writer

On a damp and overcast Saturday afternoon, the Granite City High School football Warriors used a ground game to defeat the East St. Louis Flyers 27-23 here.

The achievement eliminated one of the two remaining undefeated teams in the Southwest Conference and left the Warriors as a solid contender for the league title.

Belleville West is 4-0, GCBS 4-1, East St. Louis 3-1, Collinsville 3-2, Belleville East 2-2, Alton and Edwardsville 1-4 each and Cahokia, 0-4.

Granite City led 14-7, 21-15 and 27-15 at the quarters before the Flyers rallied for the 40th edge in the fourth period, not enough to turn the tide but ample to make the contest interesting until the end.

Winfield scampered across the goal three times, on runs of 11, 25 and 14 yards. The other GCBS touchdown was on a one-yard plunge by Fullback Gary Lively.

Receiving the opening kickoff, East St. Louis scored in the first minute, Robert Moore getting the TD on a five-yard run after a 65-yard off-tackle run by Ronald Densmore. When Lumbia Tolliver kicked the placement, the visitors' lead was 7-0.

Dale Williams gathered in the next kickoff and ran it back to the Warrior 31. GCBS immediately drove to paydirt, picking up six first downs during the drive.

Runs by Jon Stagner, Williams and Lively brought the ball to the 11, from where Winfield tallied. An extra-point kick by Brad Hiles tied 7-7. Stagner was on his way to a 104-yard total and Williams to a 106-yard game.

On a third down play after receiving the kickoff, the Flyers fumbled and GCBS recovered on the enemy 42.

In rapid succession, Winfield carried to the 41, Williams to the 35 and Stagner—on two runs—to the 25.

This set the stage for Winfield to "do his own thing," again scoring a six-pointer on an elusive run. Hiles converted with another kick and it was 14-7.

Coach Wayne Williams' Warriors were on the brink of a third TD as the second quarter began. Lively chalked up the tally and Hiles again was on target for a 15 with three minutes remaining in the third period.

Aware that they needed at least two touchdowns, the Flyers went to the air for much of the rest of the game.

GCBS responded with an appropriate defense, and Dave Ruebhausen was able to intercept a Flyer pass on the Warrior 23.

It was not until the two-minute mark at the close of the fourth quarter that East St. Louis was able to add to its point total. Halfback Densmore, a 112-yard gainer in the game, scored on a seven-yard run and then ran for a two-point conversion.

The Warriors were able to maintain possession until time ran out.

Warrior Gridders Injured in Game

Keith Hollis, defensive line-backer for the Granite City High School football Warriors received a hard blow to the head in Saturday's grid action. He was x-rayed at St. Elizabeth Hospital, kept over night for observation and was released. He will start when the Warriors travel to Cahokia Saturday.

The only other injury for the Warriors who defeated the East St. Louis Flyers 27-23, was Walt Reinhardt who hurt his ankle. He also may start Saturday.

Cougars Cut Quincy 1-0 in Two Overtime Periods Here

Something had to give Saturday afternoon at Cougar Field as the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team battled the Quincy College Hawks for 90 minutes of regulation time and the game entered two five-minute overtime periods.

The Cougar freshman sensation, John Stremmler, blasted one in from about eight yards out for the game's only goal. The 1-0 victory upset SIUE's record to 7-0-1, while the Hawks, who had beaten St. Louis University 1-0 the week before, dropped to 8-2-0.

That first 90 minutes of play between Quincy and SIUE was so close the outcome of the game could clearly have gone either way. "It was anybody's game," said Cougar Coach Bob Guelker. Jack Mackenzie, Quincy's mentor, agreed with Guelker's judgment but went a step further: "In the game next Sunday at Busch Stadium between Southern and St. Louis University, a break will decide it," he predicted.

Stremmler's winning goal was set up by a near one by Tom Twellman. Twellman's boot was so hard that the Quincy goalie, Ray Remstedt, couldn't hold on to it and the ball bounced back up field to Stremmler. Vince Fassi, the Cougars' ace defensive player, saved a goal by the Hawks' Bill Fann at 19 minutes into the first half. The Hawks' John Velez missed giving Quincy the lead early in the second half when his shot hit the bar. On the other hand, Cougar Steve Cacchiato missed an open goal shot at 11 minutes into the second half. Chris Carenza, the Cougars' leading scorer, missed a heart-breaker "header" at five minutes into the second half.

GCHS Wins District Soccer Crown, Moves to Sectional

The Granite City High School Warrior soccer squad won the district soccer tournament and will advance to sectional action against Jacksonville there at 11 a.m. Saturday. The winner of the section will move into Illinois' first state tournament in soccer.

The Warriors earned the district championship by downing the East St. Louis Assumption Pioneers 5-1 Saturday at Wilson Park. Both teams won first-round battles to qualify for the finals as Granite City downed Gibault of Waterloo 6-0 here Tuesday and Assumption upset Collinsville 1-0 here Wednesday.

Saturday's championship was a hard fought game as 13 penalties were called against the Warrior. The Pioneers were penalized 12 times.

Granite City led in shots on goal 18 to five and in corner kicks eight to six.

Wayne Canada opened the scoring 12 minutes into the game after taking a pass from Tony Valencia. Seven minutes later Harvey Breckner passed from the right to the middle where Randy Worthen waited to complete the play and earn a point.

With a 2-0 lead at the half, the Warriors increased the pressure and scored three quick goals in the first 10 minutes of the second period.

The first was at three minutes when Valencia took a pass from Andy Baugh and kicked a 30-yard goal over the Pioneer goalie's head.

Three minutes later, Canada earned his second point on a short pass by Worthen in front of the net. At 10 minutes into the period, Worthen again moved the ball to within scoring position where he heavily defended side made a short pass to Dave Sheridan who scored.

With one minute remaining in the game, Assumption put its only point on the scoreboard.

Warrior Tom Clark defended the Granite City net three-fourths of the game and Bill Schneck relieved him for the final quarter. Each stopped one attempt.

Granite City enters the sectional with an impressive record of 17 wins, one loss and two ties. Only one game will be played at Jacksonville with the winner advancing to the state finals at Normal Nov. 10 and 11.

The state meet will pit the winners of the Wheaton and Evanston sectionals in the first-round game and the victors of the Jacksonville sectional and the Chicago Public High Schools Athletic Association champion in the second round. The winners then will compete for the state crown.

VICE-PRESIDENT SPIRO AGNEW

Republican

Spiro Theodore Agnew, 33, elected governor of Maryland in 1966, was elected as the 39th Vice-President in 1968 and currently seeks a second term.

He was born in Baltimore. His father immigrated to the U.S. as a young man and married a resident of Virginia.

Growing up in the Depression years, young Ted Agnew recognized the values of productive work and education.

After attending Baltimore public schools, he studied chemistry at John Hopkins University for three years before turning to law. He received the bachelor of laws degree in 1947 at the University of Baltimore.

During World War II, he was a company commander with the 1st Armored Division in Europe. He was decorated with the Purple Heart and an additional year of service during the Korean War.

Mr. Agnew was appointed to the Baltimore County appeals board in 1957 and later became its chairman.

His ouster in 1961 by an entrenched county political machine, despite widespread backing from civic organizations, brought his name to new prominence and led him to run for county executive. He won, although the Democratic registration edge was nearly 4:1.

Only the fifth Republican ever elected governor of Maryland, he was elected to become the chief executive of a state.

While governor, he served on the executive committee of the National Governors' Conference and as vice-chairman of the Conference's state-urban relations committee.

Mr. Agnew was a member of the Republican Governors' Association campaign committee and the Republican coordinating committee task force on federal, fiscal and monetary affairs.

July 1968, President Lyndon Johnson appointed him to the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

He was married in 1942 and he and his wife, Elinor, have three daughters, Pamela, Susan and Kimberly, and a son, Randy.

R. SARGENT SHRIVER

Democrat

R. Sargent Shriver was born in Westminster, Md., on Nov. 9, 1915.

He attended parochial schools in Baltimore. In 1930-34 he attended Canterbury School in New Milford, Conn., and graduated cum laude four years later from Yale University with a B.A. degree. He entered Yale Law School and graduated with his LL.B. in 1941.

After working briefly in 1940-41 as a lawyer in New York, Shriver served for five years in the Navy, mostly aboard battleships and submarines in the Atlantic and Pacific during World War II.

He retired as a lieutenant commander and upon his return to civilian life became an assistant editor of "Newsweek."

Another task was to help Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the late President John F. Kennedy, in Washington.

Kennedy asked him to edit the letters of his eldest son, Joseph Jr. who was killed in the war, and sent him on several business assignments. Another task was to help his daughter, Eunice, set up a national conference on delinquency in Washington.

Shriver married Eunice Kennedy on May 23, 1963. They settled in Chicago, where he was manager of the Chicago Merchandise Mart.

He served as president of the Chicago Board of Education, president of the Catholic Interracial Council, and vice-president of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations.

He left his work with the Merchandise Mart in 1960 to join the Presidential campaign of John F. Kennedy.

His brother-in-law, Shriver worked in the early priorities of Wisconsin and West Virginia as political and organizational coordinator of several Congressional districts.

He later served in the Washington office of the Kennedy campaign headquarters and the Democratic National Committee.

During the general election campaign, he was director of the civil rights section of the Presidential campaign.

Shriver was asked by the President-elect to organize and direct selections of persons to appointments in the new Presidential administration.

He was asked by the President-elect to organize and direct the new Peace Corps. As its director in 1961-65, Shriver traveled to more than 30 countries in Africa, Asia and Latin America.

In 1964, President Johnson asked Shriver to begin a new task, "the war on poverty."

He was asked to head the Office of Economic Opportunity. It was through this organization that Shriver directed the first concentrated effort to combat poverty made by the U.S. government to attack problems of the poor and disadvantaged.

In 1968, Shriver was appointed ambassador to France and served there until 1970. Upon his return to the U.S., he immediately became involved in domestic politics. As chairman of the Congressional Leadership for the Future, he went to 20 states speaking and working in support of 89 Democratic candidates for the House and the Senate.

Since 1970, Shriver has been a partner in the New York and Washington law firm of Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver and Jacobson.

Shriver is a member of the Boy Scouts of America; a director of the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice; member of the Navy League of the United States; member of the Children's Lobby; member of the Bankers' Club of America; and chairman of the Board of Foreign Funds of the Israel Museum.

His awards include Patriot of the Year, 1956; Jay Churman of the Year, 1963; National Father of the Year, 1964; and National Brotherhood Award, 1965.

He has received 24 honorary degrees. The Shriver family has five children, Bobby Jr., 18, Maria, Timothy, 12, Mark, eight, and Anthony, seven.

SEN. CHARLES PERCY

Republican

Charles H. Percy, 33, Wilmette, seeking a second six-year term as U.S. senator, was born in Pensacola, Fla.

He grew up in Rogers Park on Chicago's North Side and in Wilmette, a Chicago suburb.

After attending Armstrong Grammar School and Sullivan Junior High School in Chicago and New Trier High School, Wilmette, he worked his way through the University of Chicago, receiving a bachelor degree in economics in 1941.

Two years later, Percy married Jeanne Dickerson, and they had a son and two daughters before her death in 1947.

In 1950, he married his present wife, Loraine Guyer, and they have a daughter and a son.

While working his way through the University of Chicago, Percy assumed management of a cooperative purchasing association and applied chain-store buying practices to fraternity purchases of laundry and cleaning services, food and supplies.

By the time of his graduation, the business was grossing $150,000 annually. He was named university marshal, the highest honor accorded a senior in Washington.

During summer vacations, he worked at Bell & Howell Co. and joined that firm full-time after graduation. At the age of 23, he was elected to the board of directors.

Percy went on leave in February 1943, when he enlisted in the Navy.

He returned in December 1945 to become corporate secretary with responsibility for Bell & Howell's international relations and foreign manufacturing programs.

Following the death in January 1946 of his father, Joseph H. McNabb, Percy at the age of 29 was named president and chief executive officer.

In April 1961, he was elected chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

After he announced for the U.S. Senate in 1964, he severed a 28-year relationship with the firm.

In 1960, Percy had been appointed chairman of the Republican Party's Platform Committee for the national convention.

He was a candidate for governor in 1964, he campaigned through every county and led the Republican ticket.

In March 1965, Percy conceived and became chairman of the Bell & Howell Foundation, which initiated a number of projects in education, slum housing, community development, job opportunities and research.

Percy has served also as chairman of the board of the Ford Foundation's Fund for Adult Education, which was instrumental in starting 45 U.S. educational television stations.

GOV. RICHARD OGILVIE

Republican

Richard Buell Ogilvie, 48, a Republican of Northfield (Cook County), Ill., was inaugurated as the 37th governor of Illinois on Jan. 13, 1969. He is seeking a second four-year term.

He was born in Kansas City, Mo., and moved with his family to Evanston, Ill., at the age of seven.

They later moved to Rockville Centre and Port Chester, N.Y., where he completed high school in 1940.

After completing two years at Yale University, Ogilvie tried to enlist for military service but was rejected by the Navy, Marine and Air Corps because of bad eyesight. He finally was accepted by the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps in December 1942.

Two years later, serving as a tank commander in the Vosges Mountains near the French-Swiss border, Sgt. Ogilvie was severely wounded by an exploding German shell.

After months of hospitalization, he left the Army in June 1945 with a Purple Heart and two battle stars.

Ogilvie returned to Yale, majored in American History and graduated in 1947. He then graduated with an LL.B. degree from Chicago-Kent College of Law in 1949 and joined the Chicago law firm of Lord, Bissell & Brook.

The following year he married Dorothy Shriver of Oak Park, Ill. They have one daughter, Elizabeth, born in 1955.

In 1958 he became assistant to U.S. attorney general, heading a newly formed Midwest office.

In early 1961, Ogilvie returned to private law practice as a partner in the Chicago law firm of Stevenson, Conaghan, Hackbert, Rooks & Pitts.

A few months later, he announced his candidacy for Cook County sheriff and gained a 32,000-vote victory in November 1962.

Ogilvie revamped the sheriff's police force replacing it with a narrow lead in some sections of the state but still trails Walker in polls in other areas of Illinois.

He then developed a large negative campaign by firing surveys of voter opinion, although the margin later dropped. The incumbent governor has forged the backing of Mayor Daley of Chicago and other organization Democrats.

Although largely campaigning on his own, Walker has appeared at many party rallies with other state Democratic nominees.

He also has urged public support of his party's Presidential nominee, Senator George McGovern, although acknowledging, "I recognize that it appears to be the choice of some to vote for Nixon and Walker."

To counter allegations that he has been waging a mainly negative campaign by firing surveys of voter opinion, although the margin later dropped. The incumbent governor has forged the backing of Mayor Daley of Chicago and other organization Democrats.

Daniel Walker in an upset captured the Democratic nomination for governor, defeating Paul Simon, incumbent lieutenant governor.

A former vice-president of the Montgomery Ward Co. in Chicago, Walker adopted a "walking candidate" theme, traversing the entire length of the state on foot to meet voters and become more familiar with their ideas on government.

Walker is placing major emphasis on the level of governmental spending. He pledges no tax increase and says he would be able to achieve extensive savings by eliminating waste and duplication in government staffs and services.

He stresses that he is an experienced administrator and would apply a sound business practices to the operation of state agencies.

He is married and the father of a large family. Most of his children were walking with him when he campaigned on foot through the Quad-City area.

Never elected to public office, Walker has held appointive positions related to the conduct of government. His report on police reaction to demonstrations during the 1969 national Democratic convention in Chicago received widespread praise and criticism.

Now 50 years old, Walker looks younger and has waged a vigorous campaign, visiting the Quad-Cities on several occasions. Including the primary election, he has been running for governor of Illinois for the past 23 months.

Although he trailed Lt. Gov. Simon in the primary, he scored a clear-cut primary victory, partly by verbally linking Simon to the Chicago Democratic organization which had "slated" Simon for the governor's office.

He then developed a large negative campaign by firing surveys of voter opinion, although the margin later dropped. The incumbent governor has forged the backing of Mayor Daley of Chicago and other organization Democrats.

Although largely campaigning on his own, Walker has appeared at many party rallies with other state Democratic nominees.

He also has urged public support of his party's Presidential nominee, Senator George McGovern, although acknowledging, "I recognize that it appears to be the choice of some to vote for Nixon and Walker."

To counter allegations that he has been waging a mainly negative campaign by firing surveys of voter opinion, although the margin later dropped. The incumbent governor has forged the backing of Mayor Daley of Chicago and other organization Democrats.

Walker-Hartigan Proposals For Consumers, Youth, Aged

By NANCY DAY
Copy News Service

Springfield — If the Dan Walker-Neil Hartigan team ascends to the top of the executive branch for the next four years, they'll try to push through a legislative program which keeps the state's priorities essentially the same as they are now: mental health, schools, highways, improved crime fighting and wise management of public lands.

Walker to date hasn't come forth with any bold new initiatives, his proposals sounding not too different than those advanced by Governor Richard Ogilvie.

Walker's major themes have been:
Getting more money to the people served, by cutting expensive administrative costs.
And ending the pernicious patronage system (a plank on which he may have been upstaged by the Federal Appellate Court ruling which now goes to the U.S. Supreme Court).

The Democratic platform drafted in Springfield did contain some ideas which Walker and Hartigan could prove the legislative key.

While Walker has been criticized for not building a base in the legislature, Hartigan already has experience in getting programs through the General Assembly, working as legislative counsel for the city of Chicago.

Also, Hartigan gave perhaps the most extensive testimony before the Illinois Democratic platform committee, which adopted many of his proposals. Among Hartigan's suggestions are:
For senior citizens — creation of a special department for the aged, the establishment of a state "elder grandparent" program; re-n supplement programs; and low-cost travel and entertainment.

For the Spanish-speaking — civil service examinations in Spanish, much more extensive placement of Spanish-speaking employees in public offices, and expanded bilingual educational programs.

For consumers: grading of meat products "so that housewives will know whether they are buying meat in their hot dogs or are only bringing home bread crumbs and fat in a wrapping of sausage skin."

For youth: adoption of a work-scholarship program, letting students earn money to keep themselves in school by working in community service projects.

WILLIAM J. SCOTT

Republican
State treasurer from 1962 to 1966, William J. Scott has been attorney general of Illinois since 1968 and is seeking re-election.
A graduate of the Chicago-Kent College of Law in 1950, Scott was admitted to practice before the Illinois Supreme Court the same year and in 1957 was admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court.
Scott, now 45, served under Robert Tietken as a special assistant U.S. attorney for the Northern District of Illinois in 1959, conducting a federal crackdown on crime syndicate operations in Calumet City.

During the four years he was state treasurer, Scott initiated new investment policies for idle funds which resulted in record earnings.
For the first time in history, he used the deposit of state funds to help depressed areas and to aid the economy in disaster areas.

Scott also has served as a member of the Judges Retirement System and the Illinois Public Employees Retirement System, as treasurer of the Toll Highway Commission and the Illinois Building Authority.

As the only Republican member of the State Electoral Board, in 1965, he won a series of major legal decisions in both the Illinois and U.S. Supreme Courts which resulted in successful reapportionment of the Illinois state legislature.

He has been one of the most active state attorneys general in U.S. history, taking part in many landmark cases on behalf of consumers and the elimination of environmental pollution. Scott, a veteran of World War II, has served as an elder of the Presbyterian Church, a trustee of MacMurray College, Jacksonville, and chairman of the Evanston March of Dimes.

He is a member of the Illinois and American Bar Associations and has been active in the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

EDMUND J. KUCHARSKI

In 1970, he made his first bid for statewide office as the Republican candidate for state treasurer.
He came within 88,700 votes of winning against a strong Downstate candidate and led his Republican running mates by more than 450,000 votes.

Author Speaks About African Lineage Here

Alex Haley, author and ghost writer for "The Autobiography of Malcolm X," talked to students at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale Thursday about intensive research he has pursued about his African lineage for his newest book.

Haley began the research for his new book, "Roots," with family clues passed down to him by his maternal grandmother in Tennessee. He has traced that side of his family—through the oral tradition—back to a Middle Ages youth named Kunta Kinte from the small village of Jufure, The Gambia, West Africa.

Haley began the research for his new book, "Roots," with family clues passed down to him by his maternal grandmother in Tennessee. He has traced that side of his family—through the oral tradition—back to a Middle Ages youth named Kunta Kinte from the small village of Jufure, The Gambia, West Africa.

Haley told how he traced the few words in a strange language he had heard from his grandmother, back to his small village of Jufure with the help of African scholars.

When he visited Africa he was met in the village by "griots"—very old men who have handed down the oral tradition of African history and genealogy to their offspring. Haley said he found some of the narratives took as long as seven days to relate to him.

The peak experience in Haley's life came when he visited Africa and entered the small village and felt the power of the griots' eyes fixed on him in amazement. He said he had not realized that these people had never seen a black person with a lighter complexion than their own. But Haley said he also could see that the griots felt a common bond with him.

Through Haley's translators, he understood that the tribesmen thought of American blacks as Africans in exile.

The book will be published in 14 languages simultaneously. Columbia Pictures has negotiated the film rights in advance of a four-hour epic to be filmed in The Gambia, England and America.

GEORGE W. LINDBERG

Republican
State Representative George W. Lindberg of Crystal Lake, the Republican nominee for comptroller, gained statewide prominence as the author of the state's new financial disclosure law for public officials.
The 40-year-old McHenry County native is first elected to the Illinois House of Representatives in 1966, after serving for 13 years as legal counsel and vice-president of the internationally known investigative firm of John E. Reid & Associates in Chicago.

His interest in politics developed during his employment with the Reid firm when he was called on to testify before numerous legislative bodies as an expert in financial fraud.
While with Reid, Lindberg conducted more than 5,000 investigations involving financial fraud and lectured on the subject at leading universities in the U.S., Australia and South Africa.

The son of a leading McHenry County physician and surgeon, the late Dr. A. V. Lindberg, he attended Crystal Lake elementary and secondary schools.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Northwestern University in 1954 and his law degree from that university's School of Law in 1958. He was admitted to the practice of law in 1958.

During his first term in the General Assembly, he sponsored significant measures which have been enacted into law.

Among them, the Illinois Public Demonstration Act and legislation creating the new Department of Corrections.

The bill established the new agency brought about a long-sought separation of law enforcement from the penal system because of the fundamental differences of the two functions. It also provided for state supervision of the 180 jails in Illinois for a full-time parole and pardon board.

In 1966, Lindberg was named to chair a special House committee to investigate the Illinois judiciary in the wake of disclosures of alleged judicial procreancy by two Illinois Supreme Court justices. During the investigation, the two justices in question resigned.

Even though the Supreme Court later ruled that the committee had no authority to investigate the judiciary, Lindberg took his committee's recommendations before the Constitutional Convention.

He took the 1970 Constitution reflects some of the recommendations, including the provision mandating the legislature to provide economic disclosure legislation for all three branches of government.

Lindberg was the main sponsor of the 1969 law which exempts household furnishings and one automobile from the personal and property tax.

That year, he sponsored more than 20 pieces of legislation proposed by the Illinois State Attorney's Association to bring about reforms in Illinois criminal law.

Among these were bills to expedite criminal proceedings, without denying due process, by permitting a state's attorney to proceed by information rather than indictment in specified criminal cases.

Following his chairmanship of the judiciary investigating committee, Lindberg introduced and led the fight for the Environmental Ethics Act which went into effect July 1, 1972.

The new law, considered to be the toughest measure of its kind in the nation, requires financial disclosure by public officials earning more than $20,000 a year and by candidates for public office.

The third-term legislator currently heads the Judiciary Committee and is a member of the Judicial Advisory Council which serves as liaison between the legislative and judicial branches of government.

During the past recent Assembly session, Lindberg was the House sponsor of the state's "implied consent" bill, aimed at reducing death and injury on Illinois' highways by making it mandatory for all drivers to have a blood sample taken.

He also has received the "outstanding legislator award" from the Illinois Small Businessmen's Association.

Gov. Ogilvie Cites 'Dramatic' Air Pollution Reduction in Area

Three key areas of the state have registered "dramatic and continuing improvement" in air pollution levels, Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie announced Thursday. He commented:

"In two critical locations, the Chicago area and the Illinois region opposite St. Louis the amount of particulate matter measured in the air has been reduced almost halfway or more toward the goal of federal and state air quality standards."

"In the third location, Peoria, we are virtually meeting those tough standards today."

"I find these figures immensely encouraging because they reflect not only our accelerating efforts to crack down on heavy polluters, but also the generally high level of cooperation we have received from most industrial firms and citizens in Illinois."

"Particulate matter is a major component of total air pollution. It is a good rough measure of progress in cleaning the air we breathe."

"Except for what we believe to be a small seasonal increase at the Granite City air sampling site, measurements in the three areas show dramatic and continuing improvement during the nearly three years covered by our work."

"I appeal to all citizens of this state to do whatever they can to guarantee safe, clean air for all—not just for those who live outside of heavily urbanized areas."

"Illinois is very fortunate in terms of topography and prevailing winds—very few of our people live day in and day out in a blanket of smog and grime. Present downward trends in particulate matter, if continued, will enable Illinois to meet the national clean air goals for this pollutant well ahead of the 1975 target date."

"Let me emphasize one more aspect of this fight: While there are aesthetic values in clear air, there are also medically sound benefits from reducing the number of particulate pollutants that contribute to respiratory diseases and the irritation of eyes and breathing passages, as well as serving as carriers of such harmful chemicals as sulfur dioxide."

And, as any housewife knows, the dust, soot and chemical mists in polluted air get her clothes and furniture dirty and, in extreme cases, can peel the paint right off the outer walls of a home."

Measurements in the three areas show the amount of total soot, dust and chemical mist in micrograms per cubic meter of air.

National standards call for 75 micrograms per cubic meter — ures at the side of the chart list the number of micrograms of suspended particulates per cubic centimeter. Seventy-five micrograms is the present federal and state air quality standard.

Quad City Labor for McGovern-Shriver Comm.

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED AREA LABOR LEADERS, FULLY ENDORSE AND SUPPORT McGOVERN FOR PRESIDENT BECAUSE . . .

McGOVERN HAS PLEDGED AN END TO THE TOTALLY UNFAIR SYSTEM OF WAGE FREEZES WITH LITTLE OR NO FREEZES ON PRICES OR PROFITS.

McGOVERN HAS PLEDGED FULL EMPLOYMENT.

McGOVERN HAS PLEDGED TO CLOSE TAX LOOPHOLES WHICH ALLOW CORPORATIONS LIKE U.S. STEEL TO MAKE RECORD PROFITS AND PAY NO TAXES

McGOVERN HAS PLEDGED GUARANTEED PENSION FUND SAFETY.

McGOVERN HAS PLEDGED CONTINUATION OF THE COLLECTIVE BARGAINING SYSTEM AS OPPOSED TO THE ADMINISTRATION'S PLAN FOR COMPULSORY ARBITRATION.

McGOVERN HAS PLEDGED AN END TO THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION'S "GOVERNMENT FOR THE RICH AND POWERFUL" WITH ITS INCREDIBLE CORRUPTIONS.

And because McGOVERN has publicly said, "This nation belongs to the people who build and support it; NOT to a handful of executives in the board rooms of corporate power and in the back rooms of the White House . . . we believe that workers are not robots, to be run at the flick of a management switch — but free human beings with an INALIENABLE RIGHT TO DIGNITY, SAFETY AND SECURITY."

'Y' to Feature Bicycle Tour Leader at Dinners

Bob Davenport, founder and director of the Y-MCA national bicycle touring program, will be guest of honor at two public Y-MCA-sponsored dinner programs at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 8 and 9 at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road.

The Great River Riders Bike Club will host the first of the two events, billed as "An Evening with Bob Davenport," and the "Y" program department will sponsor the second for parents and children. Both are planned as part of Y-MCA Health Month.

Started as a three-week summer program in 1964, it has grown into full-time work for Davenport. About 400 men have ridden coast-to-coast on bicycle trips that have averaged 3,000 miles. In conjunction with the transcontinental trips, week-end and vacation-time trips have been developed, involving hundreds of young persons.

Wandering Wheels demonstrate the vitality of Christian life and provides a means of increasing the riders' understanding of Jesus Christ in a context of honest masculine adventure, according to Davenport.

Good Groups
The program has involved an inner-city youth and has escorted a blind boy 3,000 miles on a tandem bike. The program is not limited to men. Several co-ed groups have resulted from the original concept.

Prior to the Wandering Wheels program, Davenport served as head football coach at Taylor University, Upland, Ind. In 11 years of coaching, his teams won five conference championships. His personal football record is as follows:

He played three years of college football at U.C.L.A. In 1955 he was named U.C.L.A. "Rookie of the Year" and was its starting fullback in the Rose Bowl game in 1954 he was a member of U.C.L.A. national champions football team and its top scorer, and he was named to the All-American squad by Look magazine.

The following year he was a member of the Rose Bowl team, selected to All-American football teams by Associated Press, United Press, Collier's magazine and the All-American Board of Football, voted by team-mates as best blocker, best tackler and most valuable player, won U.C.L.A.'s "Most Outstanding Athlete" award, Pop Warner's award as most valuable player on the West Coast and also most valuable player in the Hula Bowl against pros in Hawaii. Between 1956 and 1957 he played two years of Canadian professional ball.

Home base for Wandering Wheels is Taylor University, a 128-year-old co-ed Christian liberal arts college of 1,400 students. However, the riders come from all over America and represent various levels of spiritual interest.

Reservations or tickets for either or both "Evenings with Bob Davenport" may be obtained from Great River Riders, Y-MCA board members and staff or by phoning 876-7200.

'America's Inventive Genius' Approved for Bicentennial

An exhibit on "America's Inventive Genius" is the first Illinois project to win official approval as part of the United States' bicentennial observance in 1976.

Endorsed by both the Illinois Bicentennial Commission (IBC) and the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission (ARBC), the multi-media presentation will be on view at Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry from 1973 through 1977.

"America's Inventive Genius" is expected to be the nation's principal bicentennial exhibit on the origin, development and impact of American science and technology, according to Dr. Victor J. Danilov, museum vice-president in charge of the project.

Such Illinois contributions as the steel plow, mechanical reaper, modern tape recorder and first nuclear reaction will be included.

Museum officials expect 10 million persons from the United States and abroad to visit the $350,000 exhibit, Danilov said.

It will be part of the ARBC's "Heritage '76" program, aimed at calling attention to the nation's historic accomplishments on its 200th anniversary of independence.

The project is one of four across the nation recognized last month by the ARBC: a Washington-based commission created by Congress in 1968 to coordinate bicentennial activities. It received earlier support from Andrew McNally III, IBC chairman. The IBC is a state commission established by the Legislature in July 1972 to plan Illinois' role in the bicentennial.

"The emphasis will be on tracing America's scientific and technological heritage and showing how such technical know-how has been applied to meet the nation's social, economic, industrial and defense needs," Danilov said.

It will consist of three parts: The introductory exhibit, "The Emergence of Science and Technology," will depict significant scientific and technological leaders and principal industrial developments during four 60-year periods. Approached from the standpoint of major industries, "The Role of Science in Industry and Society" will show how science and technology have contributed to the growth of industry, the economy and the American way of life.

"Milestones in American Science and Industry" will utilize theater productions and motion pictures to relate the scientific, technological and industrial advances since the nation's founding.

Among the Illinois exhibits will be: John Deere's "Singing Plow," designed in Grand Detour and manufactured in Moline, the first successful steel plow was developed by Deere in 1833. This plow opened the West to cultivation.

Cyrus H. McCormick's mechanical harvester, patented in 1834, McCormick's reaper replaced the hand scythe and is considered the most important development in the mechanization of American agriculture.

George M. Pullman's railway sleeper, Pullman built an industrial empire just south of Chicago based on the lavish "Pioneer sleeper introduced in 1865. It made overnight rail travel comfortable and popular.

Albert A. Michelson, America's first Nobel laureate, A University of Chicago professor, Michelson was awarded the 1907 physics prize for his development of the interferometer and other precision tools for measuring the properties of light.

Marvin Camras' modern tape recorder. Camras developed the first practical wire recorder in 1939 at Illinois Institute of Technology Research Institute in Chicago. He followed with the modern magnetic tape recorder in 1945.

Enrico Fermi Launches the Nuclear Age. Fermi headed the research team that built the first self-sustaining nuclear reactor in an "atomic pile" (nuclear reactor) at the University of Chicago in 1942. This development opened the nuclear age and opened the nuclear era.

Price Cited for Work On Black Lung Act
Greater economic security and equity for the wage earner and the retired worker were emphasized in remarks prepared by Cong. Melvin Price for a talk last week before the Edwardsville League of Women Voters candidates forum.

Congressional initiative in the recently adjourned 92nd Congress "produces substantial gains for the working man," Price asserted, "but more needs to be done."

Citing a 32% increase in social security benefits and a 30% increase in railroad retirement benefits, "despite administration opposition," Price said, "Retirement security and human dignity are crucial issues that can't be relegated to the backburner."

The congressman listed comprehensive social security-welfare reform bills "as a step in the right direction."

"Increasing the earnings limitation for social security to $2,100 from the present $1,680 and reducing the disability waiting period to five months in improving the social security pension system," he said.

Prep Students Invited To McKendree Festival

Twelve area high school seniors enrolled at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville last summer made 4.0 point (B) averages or better in the new early admissions program for selected secondary school students.

According to Howard Davis, coordinator of the Dean's College at SIUE, 15 area high school seniors were recommended for the program by their high school principals and were selected to participate in the program.

Of the 15 selected, one person did not register and two persons registered but did not attend.

Two of the 12 students who did attend achieved a 5.0 average, two made a 4.5 average or higher, and five students made between a 4.0 and 4.5 average.

Davis believes the program has been a success and plans to do a follow-up on each of the enrollees for a five-year period.

Next summer Davis plans to invite 25 students to participate in the program.

Cease Fire is Key to Settlement—Price
Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis), said in a statement Friday:

"I welcome the announcement about a pending peace agreement in Vietnam. All America wants peace and the return of our men, including full exchange of our prisoners of war and full disclosure of information about our men listed as missing in action."

"It has always been my position that a cease-fire agreement is the key to any settlement. In a June 1970 speech before the Belleville Junior Chamber of Commerce, I again outlined by suggestions for a U.S.-initiated ceasefire."

"Additionally, I am author of several resolutions to this effect as well as a provision in the 1971 Selective Service Act directing the U.S. government to seek a cease-fire agreement as a means of resolving the hostilities."

"I hope the announced plans will be implemented without delay."

The Schermer Bulletin

The news of the MacRea boy returning home from the Shrine Hospital in Cincinnati made us all feel great here at Schermers. One of the most unusual cases and quickest recoveries that we have witnessed in the local area.

How about Girl Scout Cookies? They are early this year. When the girls come to your door, remember, your purchase not only helps the Girl Scouts in their endeavors, but they ARE SELLING REAL GOOD COOKIES. Try 'em; you'll like 'em.

One of the items we have been missing since the fire finally showed up, REX JELLY. Those of you who remember the depression remember Rex because it was and still is an imitation jelly, but we still have many customers who grew up on it and liked it and continue to ask for it. Anyway it is here.

Another big "Schermer Special Sale" coming up next week. Look for the big ad delivered to your door next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Our free "Steak Platters" made a hit last week. Our customers told us all kinds of uses for them, from "snack" trays to special lunch plates for "hamburgers and French fries." We at Schermers get just as much "kick" out of these "giveaways" as our customers do in receiving. We have one more "knockout" planned for our "big sale" next week. Be sure and watch for it. We are sure you'll really like this one.

Emmanuel Baptist Scene Of Oge-Phillips Wedding

The marriage of Miss Judith Ann Phillips and Frank J. Oge was solemnized in an afternoon ceremony on Oct. 22 at Emmanuel Baptist Church, 1800 Pontoon Road.

An arch entwined with callie lilies and yellow ribbons, and white candles festooned with yellow bows in branched candelabra, created the setting for the 3 o'clock double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Dennis Bauer of St. Louis.

Music played during the service was furnished by Diane Smith on the clarinet and Marilyn Stagner presiding at the organ, who played "A Time For Us."

Dwayne Bridges, soloist, was accompanied by Miss Elaine Scott at the piano. The local selections included "One Hand, One Heart," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Phillips, 2 Bermuda Lane. The groom is a son of Mrs. Marie M. Oge, 343 Minnesota Ave., St. Louis and the late Frank Oge.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Phillips wore a victorian style gown in ivory tulle lace elaborately detailed. The bodice was fitted into a V-design effect and the bishop sleeves terminated at the wrists with a wide lace ruffle. The demibell silhouette skirt, fashioned of tulle lace, was accented with narrow rows of Venice lace and ended in a deep gathered flounce at the hemline.

She wore a matching tulle lace headpiece to secure her mantilla veil, edged with Venice lace, and she carried a taperside bouquet of white carnations centered with a yellow corsage.

Mrs. Susan Elizabeth Auder, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She selected a floor length floral print chiffon dress in shades of lemon yellow, sunburst orange, and green, fashioned in an Empire design. Her bouquet was of yellow carnations.

Kimberly Ann Smith, a niece of the bride, served as flower girl and wore a white cotton lace frock.

Dennis Oge, a brother of the groom, was best man. Jay Carter and Jerry Smith, brothers-in-law of the bride and groom, seated the guests. Lighting the candles were Cynthia Beth Smith and Jim Oge.

Both mothers wore street length dresses. Mrs. Phillips chose a pink silk frock and Jacket ensemble and the groom's mother, Mrs. Oge, ap-

Rose M. Stout Becomes Mrs. Wayne A. Staggs

Tall urns holding arrangements of white gladioli, pompons and greenery and white satin bows marking the pews provided the setting for the wedding of Miss Rose M. Stout and Wayne A. Staggs on Saturday evening at Trinity Tabernacle, 2001 Sixth St., Madison.

The Rev. C. M. O'Guinn performed the double ring ceremony at 5 o'clock. Mrs. O'Guinn presided at the organ and played a program of wedding music.

The bride made her home with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Holshouser, 1924 Beckwith St., Madison. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Staggs, reside at 2420 Edwards St.

Escort down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her uncle, Paul Holshouser, the former Miss Stout chose a beautiful bridal gown of tulle and Chantilly lace.

Delicate Chantilly lace lavishly studded with seed pearls, formed the high collar and yoke of the fitted bodice fashioned of tulle. Long full sleeves gathered at the wrists into wide cuffs were of matching lace.

The very bouffant skirt was designed to give a redingote effect and accent the insertion tiers of fragile lace encircling the hemline.

She wore a mantilla veil of Chantilly lace and carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis, baby breath and smilax.

Mrs. Janet Johnson, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. George Storer, a sister of the groom, Miss Peggy Stagner and Mrs. Mary Janeo served as bridesmaids.

They wore identical gowns made in Empire style with royal blue velvet bodices and white chiffon skirts. The double ruffle tulle of the sabrina neeklines and blue satin ribbon formed the wrist bands of the long sheer sleeves.

A deep ruffled flounce around the hem of the slightly gathered skirt was accented with a blue ribbon and each attendant complemented her gown with a royal blue velvet bow in hair, securing a pale blue nose tip veil. They held bouquets of blue cornflowers and white daisies.

Everett Johnson, ringbearer, escorted the little flower girl, Tracie Bouch. She was attired in a polyester chiffon frock trimmed with light blue velvet ribbon and designed in similar style to the adult attendants' dresses.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother-in-law, George Story.

Groomsmen included Jack Mannion, Russell Staggs Jr., the groom's brother, and Billy Gregory. Serving as ushers were Harold Stout and Johnny Staggs, brothers of the bride couple.

Mrs. Holshouser, grandmother of the bride, wore a tulle and polyester dress and the groom's mother, Mrs. Staggs, chose a pink coat-dress in chiffon. Their accessories were in shades to match their ensembles and each wore a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Patti Staggs, a sister of the groom, attended the guest book at a reception at the VFW Hall, held immediately following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Staggs entertained the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner on Friday evening in their home.

After a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, the newlyweds will reside in Granite City.

Illinois' Greatest Governor Deserves to Be Re-Elected

The Press-Record today strongly endorses Richard B. Ogilvie for re-election Nov. 7 as governor of Illinois. The chief consideration is his decision regarding an incumbent governor inevitably is his record in that office. We regard his record as the best of any governor in Illinois' history.

In his campaign of four years ago, the Cook County Board president proposed to overhaul the executive branch of state government and to revitalize state efforts in transportation, public safety, highway construction, law enforcement, conservation, pollution, education, housing and human services.

Mr. Ogilvie also advocated a federal tax-sharing program in which the U.S. would rebate funds to the states with no strings attached. He cited the need for a constitutional convention to rewrite this state's 100-year-old charter.

When elected, he turned to the tasks he had outlined but found that an even more immediate duty was to save the state from bankruptcy; the deficit was approaching $1 billion. He imposed a spending freeze, saving more than $200 million by July 1969, and established a Bureau of the Budget. The bureau later was credited with eliminating more than $300 million in duplication, waste and inefficiency during its first two years.

It became apparent that even a stringent economy could not restore financial solvency. Accepting the obvious political penalty, Gov. Ogilvie recommended and achieved an income tax as the only way for Illinois to discharge its obligation to education, the mentally ill, the needy and the more than 11 million people affected by our state government.

While efficient operation continued to receive full attention, Mr. Ogilvie began to lead the state in a new and positive direction. Instead of the buck passing and the finger pointing, he carried the second term of his predecessor, he met problems head-on and sought practical, prudent, prompt solutions.

State aid to schools was more than doubled. Funds for junior colleges, state universities and scholarships were boosted significantly. A new senior state university was opened in Springfield and another was established at Park Forest.

Southern Illinois University was permitted to create a medical school, and dental school, the latter in Madison County. A state-supported experimental junior college was opened in East St. Louis.

Major reforms in mental health were carried out, with appropriations to over 100 community clinics doubled in two years. Decentralization of care ended patient population overcrowding, dehumanized state hospitals. Many geriatric patients were transferred to nursing homes, and work was started on new state mental health centers for the retarded.

Under Gov. Ogilvie's leadership, 56,428 acres of new park land were acquired and efforts were focused on creating state parks, a model for "are." Horseshoe Lake State Park was approved after similar plans had been frustrated by several past governors. More than 2,000 camps, day camps, day centers and recreation areas.

Varied benefits for workers were increased markedly. Illinois began to place appropriate emphasis on the creative arts, and has become a financial backer of this region's most outstanding cultural asset, the annual Mississippi River Festival summer concert series at SIUE.

Mr. Ogilvie instituted a program of direct revenue sharing with local governments, making Illinois a model for every state in the nation; over $350 million has been returned to local-level agencies and municipalities. This has made it possible for many communities to reduce property taxes, delay other new taxes or substantially improve public services.

When the long-sought federal revenue sharing became a reality this month, the governor—who had worked diligently to obtain it—called a special legislative session to freeze all property taxes at present levels.

The governor secured passage of bills to form new code departments of corrections, law enforcement and local government affairs. By executive order, he created the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission and obtained General Assembly approval for an Illinois Bureau of Investigation and a full-time, professional Pardon and Parole Board.

To make the previously deteriorating highway system safer, he launched a program of improving more than 5,000 miles of perilous roads and widening over 1,500 narrow bridges. An upturn in Illinois traffic deaths has been reversed, lowering the lowest death rate in 50 years. The state currently is spending nearly $4 million to make Route 203 a divided four-lane highway between the Newell-Hampton Roads intersection and Interstate 270.

The new constitution was adopted in November 1970, due in large measure to his support. It cleared the way for his plan for a modern, coordinated transportation system throughout the state, involving a state Department of Transportation and a successful $900 million bond issue for supplemental freeway system, airports and mass transit capital improvements.

Another major Ogilvie program was approved when 1970 voters overwhelmingly passed a $750 million anti-pollution bond issue, providing funds for municipalities and districts to protect air and water resources. Three new pollution fighting agencies were activated in a program called the strongest in the country.

His many achievements in the field of public health, including the statewide trauma system for care of seriously injured, have earned national acclaim.

In attacking the problem of welfare dependency, Gov. Ogilvie coordinated and strengthened job training and placement services, linking available jobs and persons who can fill them.

Services to children have been upgraded in diverse areas, including child care at the instigation of Mr. Ogilvie. The new Governor's Office of Human Resources coordinates the often tangled federal, state and local programs for the underprivileged, including welfare, education, health, housing and legal aid.

During his tenure, the personal property tax has been removed on farm equipment, household furnishings and the family auto. Senior citizens have received a $1,500 property tax exemption and rebates of up to $500 to reduce excessive property taxes.

One of the greatest economic booms in the history of this bi-state region and the nation's St. Clair-Monroe-Randolph Counties area is possible through the St. Louis International Airport proposed by Gov. Ogilvie at a large Columbia, Ill. site. This and related improvements are likely to exceed $1 billion, and we are convinced his airport plan is the only way in which the St. Louis region can successfully compete for a fair share of the Midwest's growth during the last third of this century.

His foresight and ability also are essential to this region in the improvement of drainage and in assuring fair treatment of the Quad-Cities and Madison County. The latter, in fact, is moving to control land use, rapid transit, sewers, housing, recreation and commercial and industrial development.

Gov. Ogilvie's leadership has improved the quality of life in Illinois which he has taken and which he will be in a position to take, could be made much better. He is a man who has taken the form a truly impressive list, despite the intensive criticism by his opponent, Daniel Walker.

He is an intelligent, energetic, determined and intelligent individual, but we think Illinoisans would be taking a serious risk in placing gubernatorial responsibilities on the shoulders of a man who has never held elective office.

Although he won many friends on his walking tour of the state, Mr. Walker was perceived by many as a fiscal conservative who said he could simultaneously expand services and cut governmental spending.

We do not believe that there is that much waste in present state programs, and we think the general pinch-penny impression conveyed by Mr. Walker is different from the state's actual situation. He has taken the state in a direction favoring costly programs, in his detailed position statements.

Governor Ogilvie is a known quantity. He is a man who has taken the form a truly impressive list, despite the intensive criticism by his opponent, Daniel Walker.

He is a close race and badly needs to carry Madison County next week. Regardless of the outcome, Mr. Ogilvie will leave a lasting impression on the basis of his thoughtful, dedicated, bold and gifted conduct of the office.

McGOVERN COULD MAKE ALL AMERICANS PROUD

To the Editor:

If the American people are fooled again by Richard M. Nixon's distortions and straying away from the real issues of America and the world, then once again—and maybe forever—we will be burdened with Watergate, the grain deal, bombing of children, a stagnating economy, excessive profits by business and a disregard for a dwindling supply of natural resources.

Plus, continued support of corrupt politicians, who are neither democratic nor representative; continued decline of the inner cities, which need our most urgent attention; continued disregard of constitutional rights and freedoms.

He is an American who has the courage and a decency to stand up for what is just. Not for a select few, but for the special interests, but for the people who work hard day in, day out, for the rights of all who live in America.

George McGovern: for the people. America will survive another four years of Nixon. But America will live and breathe and become revitalized and a new sense of proudest will emerge in the nation if George McGovern is elected.

STATE ADMINISTRATION POLICIES CHALLENGED

To the Editor:

Readers, look what Ogilvie is doing to you. He is not for the working man.

In Chicago Oct. 20, United States District Court Judge William J. Lynch ordered the Illinois Department of Public Aid to notify thousands of mothers who had been denied ballot box seen as only way to cut federal budget

By ARCH BOOTH
Executive Vice-President, U.S. Chamber of Commerce

Have you heard the one about the Texas duckshund that was so long, when someone stepped on his tail, he didn't bark until the next day? When it comes to government spending, we Americans are like that duckshund.

It is the background: Initially, each house of Congress passed a bill granting the President's request for a $20 billion limit on federal spending for this fiscal year.

The House bill permitted the President to cut federal programs as he saw fit, in order to stay within the limit. The Senate, on the other hand, attached so many strings to its version of the bill that any Presidential budget-cutting would have been extremely difficult, if not entirely impossible.

A House-Senate conference committee attempted to compromise the differences, but on Oct. 17 the Senate rejected the compromise, amid stirring rhetoric about not surrendering legislative power to the executive.

It would be much easier to sympathize with the Senate's sudden concern for principle if they had not, in fact already abdicated their control over federal expenditures, by their consistent refusal to maintain a reasonable relationship between income and outgo. The House has been a ready accomplice, of course, but at welfare benefits they might be eligible for retroactive benefits. The mothers had been denied benefits since July 1969 when the department decided that women who would not identify the father of a child would not receive benefits for that child.

The plan was ruled unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court last summer, making the mothers eligible for retroactive benefits.

The notices will be sent to mothers on welfare who were denied benefits for one or more children whose father was not identified, and to mothers who were dropped from the welfare rolls entirely.

Edward T. Weaver, department director, estimated that the retroactive payments would cost the state more than $20,000.

Weaver faces a contempt of court penalty for refusing to follow the court orders earlier concerning the payments.

The state's plan had been to learn the identity of fathers of welfare children so the man could be ordered to pay child support. He was able, instead, of the state paying for the child's support.

Mothers who might have been disqualified because that plan will be sent notices to check with the welfare department to see whether they are eligible for payments.

Cannaxpayers take another Ogilvie term? MARLENE SERINI
1927 Third St., East Madison

least in this case the members of the House were willing to face their own inability to put the brakes on and ask the President to do it for them.

On Oct. 18—following rejection of the spending ceiling—next major legislative act of the House was to override the President's veto of a $25 billion water pollution control bill.

The President had warned in his veto message that every dollar above his $8 billion budget request for the program "would exact a price from the consumer in the form of inflated living costs, or from the taxpayer in the form of a new federal tax bite, or both."

Now when it comes to deficit spending, the President is far from guiltless. One quarter of the present national debt was incurred in his administration.

But at least he seems disturbed enough now to try to do something about the federal government's chronic inability to live within its budget, whereas the Senate is still on top of its ivory tower, and the House is only about halfway down to ground level.

Representative Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has been the principal fight for a spending ceiling, had this to say about the issue.

"I believe the House and the people are aware of what is going on. I know the American people want something done about it."

Washington Monsters Vs. Hanoi Saints, as Viewed by Jane Fonda

Is she Hanoi Jane intentionally seeking to undermine patriotism and loyalty to America?

Or is she pretty little Miss Fonda, an actress of rare talent who just got enmeshed in politics beyond her depth and does not realize she is making improper use of her fame and name to sway the public in the wrong direction?

Whatever one's viewpoint, she appeared to achieve some success in spreading the North Vietnamese "party line" to a packed audience of students and citizens in Meridian Ballroom at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this month.

SIUE had added a new dimension to public dialogue in Madison County through speaking engagements arranged by students of the University Center board.

Invitation to the talk by the reigning Academy Award winner which we attended, the university was the scene of an address by U.S. Senator George McGovern, Democratic nominee for President, but he was delayed in Detroit and postponed the visit.

The diversity which is being offered at SIUE is attractive in many ways but we nevertheless are disturbed by some aspects.

Miss Fonda was careful to include such comments as, "Don't accept what I say. Go out and check for yourselves."

But in most members of her audience really weren't going to be able to tour the Far East and see first-hand what she told of seeing.

Certainly, theoretically, the student body has an opportunity to hear all sides of each subject, the series of speakers should not appear to be balanced between the conservative, moderate, liberal and radical viewpoints.

One of the problem undoubtedly is that there are few who could present a case with as much skill as Miss Fonda, even if they were invited.

She has her arguments and allegations down to four, and is quick-minded enough to cope with all except the most extreme of challengers, matching logic with illogic in a plausible, hard-to-detect manner.

The basic points she sought to make were that the United States has been in Vietnam for reasons of ego and greed and that America has gone after monstrous gain with monstrous cruelty and deviousness.

Hanoi is pictured as decent, forgiving and a democratic, a harbinger of all virtues imaginable.

Our government is described as lying and being untrustworthy, in sharp contrast to the sainted leaders of North Vietnam.

Chapter and verse of the charges are recited without real documentation but with enough of an aura of authenticity to convince many of the listeners, who applauded loudly and often.

Certainly, the photo slides of wrecked bodies and buildings in North Vietnam eloquently conveyed the horror of war. She did not visit South Vietnam and showed no scenes of the maiming and destruction brought about there by the Viet Cong.

Heckling by Norman A. Weber, a former mayor of Collinsville, won sympathy for the speaker, who was aided by the loudspeaker system.

Before leaving, he shouted, "25 Years Ago Community Chest at 25% of Goal"

October 30, 1947
The Community Chest campaign has reached 25% of the 1947 goal of $62,648. Madison Postmaster Ralph Jones summed up the appeal for pledges in this way: "If your ticker would suddenly show a 25% increase, would you not want to know the reason? The memory of your name would still remain for your friends to cherish, without any shame. And another thing that I might mention is that your donation makes the best exemption. So, think this over and do your best when the boys come around on the Community Chest."

Woods-Miller Wedding At St. Mark's Church

Miss Mary Catherine Miller, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Miller, 207 Abbott St., Venice, and Edward Craig Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Woods of Collinsville, exchanged wedding vows Saturday in an early evening ceremony at St. Mark Roman Catholic Church in Venice.

Hurricane 1 a m p s entwined with ivy and stephanotis and branched candelabra holding lighted tapers illuminated the white carpeted aisle and sanctuary in the 5 o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Kenneth Jans.

Music was provided throughout the service by Miss Nancy Dykla at the organ and the St. Mark's Youth Folk Group, including Elaine Svezia, Lynn Svezia, Patrick Foley and Dave Malone.

Selections included "Speak Softly," "Sunrise, Sunset," "If," "Candle of Life Dedication," "Morning Has Broken," "Let It Be" and "My Sweet Lord."

For her wedding, the bride chose an antique ivory silk-faced sateen gown made in Victorian style. Exquisite Venice lace etched with tiny seed pearls, forming a daisy design, fashioned the high standup collar and accented the long fitted sleeves and flared trumpet cuffs.

The bodice was defined with matching lace to create a jump effect at the shoulders, narrowing as it terminated at the Empire waistline. The full skirt was edged at the front hem.

line with identical lace and the attached court train flowed voluminously at the back, with a tiered ruffle at the hem of the cathedral length train.

She wore a cathedral veil of imported French bridal illusion, bordered in matching Venice lace, and she carried a classic cascade bouquet of white orchids, white roses, stephanotis, lily of the valley and ivy.

A sister of the bride, Miss Lorette Miller, served as maid of honor. Mrs. Mary Ann George, Miss Elizabeth Fields, cousins of the bride, Mrs. Sheila Brassfield, Mrs. Linda Slover and Mrs. Linda White, a sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. Miss Mary Christine Barnett, a niece of the bride, was the junior maid.

They were groomed alike in orange crepe dresses fashioned with ivory crepe lace collars, edged in ivory Cluny lace, accenting the V necklines.

Set in cummerbunds marked the natural waistlines and enhanced the full length bias cut dresses. Narrow self fabric ribbon was secured at the sides of the waist and tied into bows at the back, cascading to the hemlines.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of Hawaiian Bird of Paradise, encircled with island foliage in shades of orange, yellow, emerald green and blue violet.

The flower girl, Theresa Brasfield, was dressed in a frock identical to the adult attendants' dresses. She carried a basket of white Sweetheart roses and was escorted by Gregory Barnett, a nephew of the bride, as ringbearer.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Don White, the groom's brother-in-law. Ed Eubanks, John Layne, Les White, Eric Dierks and Bill Means served as groomsmen. Seating the guests were James Miller Jr., and Russell Woods, brothers of the bride and groom.

Miss Janice Hayden presided over the guest book at a reception given at Cration Home in Madison following the service. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Miller wore a long gown of autumn cocoa crepe chiffon fashioned with a molded bodice of velvet, featuring a V neckline and accented with a large cocoa chiffon cabbage rose and long sleeves. She had matching accessories.

Mrs. Woods, mother of the groom, was attired in a peacock blue chiffon over taffeta gown designed with long puff sleeves and a jewel neckline. An embroidered metallic belt enhanced the natural waistline and a similar trim was reported on the cuffs. Her accessories were in a peacock blue shade. Both mothers had autumn gold cymbidium orchids attached to their handbags.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents on Friday evening at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville. A graduate of Venice High School, the former Miss Miller attended Belleville Area Junior College. She was employed as a legal secretary with the Gulf-Symington, Petzall law firm in St. Louis.

Mr. Woods graduated from Nashville Tenn. High School and attended Middle Tennessee State College in Murfreesboro, Tenn. He served two years of active duty with the U.S. Marine Corps in Vietnam and presently is employed by Athens Distributing Co., Memphis, Tenn. The newlyweds will reside in Memphis following a honeymoon trip.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Don White, Memphis, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Les White, Mr. and Mrs. Howard White, Mrs. Geraldine White, Henry Staggs, Mrs. Linn White of Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. Margaret Blevis, Greenville, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Eric Dierks, Louisville, Ky., Ed Eubanks of Bloomington, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. F. ### AWARDS PRESENTED TO CUBS OF PACK 17

"Discover America" was the theme for Cub Pack 17's October meeting last week at Marshall school. The boys participated in a game test in observance of fire prevention.

Bill Johnson, cubmaster, and the pack is sponsored by the Marshall PTA.

Den Two, under direction of the den mother, David Wilson, opened the program with raising the colors and leading the audience in the pledge of allegiance, followed by singing "If Your Happy."

MAKE SURE YOU DON'T MAKE THESE MISTAKES IN SELECTING YOUR FLORIDA RETIREMENT SITE!

- Many people buy in an area where building costs will take most of their savings or burden them with heavy monthly payments.
- Many people buy a lot on the premise that it would be developed in two, five or ten years and now that they are ready to retire, it's not completed; or they would be building in a vast area without any neighbors, or water or sewer facilities.
- Many people buy in an area where their taxes, home maintenance, utility, recreation, mortgage payment, food, etc. will amount to more than their retirement income.

If you want to avoid the above mistakes, it's a must for you to investigate Florida's Hot Point.

Costs Cut Laclede
Quarter Earnings
In a letter to stockholders,
Paul B. Akin, president and treasurer of Laclede Steel Co., reported that on Friday the board of directors declared a quarterly dividend of fifty cents per share on the common stock of the company, payable Nov.
20 to stockholders of record
Nov. 10.
Akin noted that earnings from operations before income taxes for the third quarter of $570,000, although higher than a year ago, are well below first and second quarter results.
He said, "Earnings have been reduced because of higher costs for labor, raw materials and supplies, without the benefit of any price increase for our products."
"In addition, Laclede has had to contend with continuing interruptions of steelmaking facilities to install required air pollution abatement equipment."
He said the interruptions have increased costs and lost productivity but will continue in the fourth quarter of 1972 and into the first half of 1973.
Akin predicted that fourth quarter earnings will be marginal and that earnings for the first quarter of 1973 will be slightly lower than the third quarter earnings just reported.
He pointed out that earnings for 1972, however, will be a marked improvement over 1971.

Few Surprises in Mock Election; Voting Light

Heightened activity on the national scene relating to the Nov. 7 general election apparently has failed to spur the interest of local residents as evidenced by the few voters who showed a chance to cast a ballot in a straw election conducted Saturday in Granite City.

The mock election, a project of the Granite City Jaycees held at six polling places in the community, drew a total of 314 ballots during a four-hour voting period. David Partney, project chairman, said today.

People approached in the vicinity of the polling booths and invited to vote showed little interest, many offered the comment that neither of the Presidential candidates was favorable to them, Partney said.

Of the 314 ballots cast, 82 persons voted a straight Democratic ticket and 45 cast their entire ballot for Republican candidates.

U. S. Representative Melvin D. Price (D-East St. Louis) gained the highest number of votes with 223 to 64 for his opponent, Robert Mays.

Only three Republican candidates led on the ticket—President Richard M. Nixon, who received 164 votes (52%) to Senator George McGovern's 149 (47%); U. S. Senator Charles Percy, 183 votes (58%) to Representative Roman Pucinski, 123 votes (43%); and Madison County Coroner Robert Thomas, 170 votes to Mrs. Dallas Burke, 125 votes.

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie "lost" to Daniel Walker, Democratic candidate who tallied 183 votes (58%) to the incumbent governor's 111 votes (36%).

Rites Held Today For Plonsey Smith, 72

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p.m. today in an East St. Louis funeral home for Plonsey Smith, 72, of 1227 Bu-sell St., Madison. He died Wednesday in the Elder Care Convalescent Home, Alton.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Hattie Smith; a daughter, Mrs. Darlene Cooper of Madison; three sons, James Jones of Chicago, Irvin of Fort Hood, Tex., and Willie of Tulsa, Okla.

Worker Loses Arm

Physicians at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, amputated the left of Robert Ariana, 21, of 2901 Pershing Blvd., after an accident in which it became caught in a conveyor at Granite City Steel Co. Members of his family said he will remain in the hospital three to four more weeks. In addition to the arm injury, Ariana suffered multiple lacerations and abrasions in the accident.

AUTOS IN ACCIDENT

Autos driven by Ronald Harsh-barger, 2325 Lynch Ave., and Dewey H. Deason, 1726 Edison Ave., were in an accident at 12:45 p.m. Thursday at Name-oki Road and Clark Avenue.

Bazaar at St. Elizabeth Church

Mrs. Darlene Macko and Mrs. Linda Rozycki, booth co-chairmen for St. Elizabeth Catholic Church bazaar, are completing plans for the annual affair, set for Saturday and Sunday at the church.

The 12 booth displays include a large country store, featuring homemade breads, jams, pickles and similar items. In charge of the store are Mrs. Marie Planitz and Mrs. Ropac.

Other booths will offer handi-works, with Mrs. Millie Kleish as chairman; and quilts, Mrs. Irene Feeler and Mrs. Carol Kessler, co-chairmen. Also on the list of booths are a doll stand, boy's book, religious articles stand and fish pond, among others.

Illinois Ranks Third In School Tax Funds

The state of Illinois ranks third in the nation - behind California and New York - in appropriations of tax funds for operating expenses in higher education for 1972-73.

Dr. M. Chambers, visiting professor at Illinois State University and a national authority on higher education financing, has compiled the figures from his contacts in each state. His reports are, in turn, sent to key higher education authorities in those states.

The summary shows that Illinois this year is appropriating $316,728,000 which is a 344.3% gain during the last 10 years from the $116,293,000 appropriated in 1962-63. The total is up 8.9% from the $470,530,000 of two years ago.

California this year is appropriating $1,099,272,000 and New York $822,424,000. Immediately behind Illinois are Texas at $463,328,000 and Michigan $417,815,000.

Illinois, although third in total dollar appropriations, ranks 24th in percentage of growth over the last decade. The leader, at 836%, is Massachusetts, followed by Hawaii at 657.3%.

The figures include funds allocated for public and private colleges and universities and other recipients of higher education funds.

Chambers reports that the 50-state total of appropriations of state tax funds for higher education amount to $8.5 billion, an increase of $1.5 billion since 1970-71, or 22.8% on a cumulative weighted average.

Instant Debt

Take another look at those credit cards in your pocketbook. They represent the latest thing in efficiency when it comes to charging the purchase of a product, but then they also represent instant debt. If not repaid on time, interest can be as high as 18 percent.

Doesn't it make better sense to save FIRST for what you want to buy. Not only will we pay YOU for the privilege of using your money, but you may save on the finance charges.

Think it over. These days, it pays to save money whenever you get the opportunity.
